ELECTIONS WEDNESDAY

Closely Contested Junior Election Won by Lawrence on Third Vote

Mackay Introduces New Voting System

After four sessions of nominating and balloting during a ten-day period which ended a week ago last Thursday, the junior class elected Aetius (Ace) Lawrence its president for next year. Lawrence defeated Thomas Gregory in the final ballot of the hotly contested race which began Tuesday, April 19.

Upon the recommendation of this year's president, Robertson MacKay, the class voted to devise a system by which a greater than usual percentage of the class would cast a vote for next year's president, and after some debate, the method finally decided upon was a primary system. Nine candidates were nominated from the floor, and by the end of the meeting the field was narrowed down to three candidates — Lawrence, Gregory, and Orlando Potter.

At the first balloting the following Monday afternoon and evening the result was so close, 40, 40, 39, that Mackay, who was conducting the election, felt it unfair to drop the lowest man. The class voted to support this decision but also to drop the lowest man on the second ballot, regardless of how close the results of the vote. On this ballot, with approximately 75% of the class voting as on Monday, Potter's name was dropped.

A somewhat smaller, although still a sizeable, percentage of the class voted the following night, and Lawrence was declared elected by the election committee of Mackay and Dean Alfange. By virtue of his election, Lawrence also became a member of the 1949-50 Student Council.

Chapel Members To Meet Thursday

A dinner for all members of the Chapel Congregation will be held in the Hall of Commons next Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. Letters of invitation have been sent to some 180 members of the congregation and a large number is expected to attend.

This occasion will mark the first time that the entire congregation has had an opportunity to meet as a group since admittance of new members last fall. Although the dinner is designed primarily as a get-together, a short business meeting will be conducted at which vacancies on the Chapel Board will be filled and the new constitution will be submitted for approval.

President Robert W. McEwen and Dean Winton Tolles will be guest speakers at the dinner, and the Glee Club and the DU quartet are expected to provide the evening's entertainment.

Prize Winners Named by Club

Winners of the Hamilton College Camera Club's first print competition were announced this week by Prof. Paul Parker of the Art Department.

First prize of ten dollars was won by Morgan P. Underwood for his portrait of "Marty." Second prize awards of five dollars each went to C. W. Brady and George Tillman for their prints of "Fall Scene" and "Sparkling Waters." respectively. Five third place awards were won by S. Gilmer Towell, E. Lowell Swarts, Richard Baldwin, Albert Wright, and Thomas Pope.

The winning prints as well as those of other entrants will be exhibited in the library sometime next week.

Krogman Lectures On Anthropology

Lecturing on the part of physical anthropology in the scientific picture of man, Dr. Wilton M. Krogman, of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, will speak to the College Community next Wednesday evening at 8:00 p. m. in the Chemistry Auditorium. One of America's outstanding physical anthropologists, Dr. Krogman is a graduate of the University of Chicago where he served a short time as an instructor of physical anthropology before going to Western Reserve University as an associate professor of anatomy and physical anthropology. He later returned to the University of Chicago.

Dr. Krogman is presently making an extensive study of the growth of normal children. Numerous institutions are supporting a gigantic overall survey of the sociological and scientific aspects of mankind, and Dr. Krogman's work is one part of this scientific survey. His talk will be based upon the relationship of the scientific study of mankind to the total survey of mankind.

Council Favors Student Opinion Survey Board

Nominated for the two-year term on the trustee-created Student-Faculty-Administration Athletic Committee at the Student Council meeting Monday night were John Barton, William Luers, and David Palmer. The student body will select one of these three men for the post at the all-college meeting on May 11. Robert V. Brown, Robert Markel, and John Mayes were named by the council as candidates for the one-year-term position.

James Nickel, co-founder of the Student Opinion Survey Committee, presented a proposed constitution for a permanent Survey Board to be composed of one representative from each of the fraternities and the Squires Club, and two representatives for the independents. The Council approved the constitution, and with the approval of the Dean of the College, the Board will become a council-chartered body.

President Bruce Prum announced that the sophomore class had repaid a loan which the Student Council had made after that class's first dance held last fall.

IFC Sends Men To Regional Group

Murray Drabkin, who, with Douglas Bushy, represented the local IFC at the Northeastern Interfraternity Council Conference in Troy last weekend, reported at the regular meeting on Tuesday that he felt that the greatest benefit to be gained from attending such meetings was in the exchange of information and ideas. In view of this report, the Council voted to send two delegates to the next regional meeting to be held next fall in Amherst, Massachusetts.

The IFC also voted to ascertain the feeling on campus with regard to changing Sunday chapel time to 11:00 a. m. in the morning.

Twenty-three Names Received by Council

Stronger Student Council Promised By Candidates for Elective Offices

Petitions on behalf of twenty-three candidates for the Student Council elective positions have been submitted to the Student Council Elections Committee, it was announced in Wednesday Chapel. At the election next Wednesday, each undergraduate is entitled to one vote for each of the four offices, representative-at-large, and representative from each of the three upper classes. Keith Wellin and Robertson Mackay are the only incumbents on the list.

The candidates and their "campaign" statements, issued at the request of The Spectator, are listed below.

Representative-at-large

Thomas Gregory — I'd like to increase the spirit of the student body and make a more unified college community.

Arnold Lerman — Our Student Council must become the forceful representative organ of student opinion. Only this can impel the administration to respect and activate student ideas!

Norbert Matzinger — It must be the aim of the future members of the Student Council to transform it into an active coordinator of student activities and to make its first duty to recognize and act with promptness and emphasis on issues vital to student interests.

Orlando Potter — I would attempt to bring to the Council the viewpoint of no one particular group, but rather an objective concern for campus-wide problems. I believe that some outstanding needs are better coordination of academic and student activities, an integrated social schedule, and a faculty evaluation plan.

James Sontheimer — I hope and believe that the new elective process will encourage the most interested men to run for the Council, and will stimulate student interest in general in the Council, and thus it will make a stronger and more representative Student Council in the future.

Keith Wellin — I believe that knowledge of the precedents

Potter Named Editor-in-Chief Of Spectator

Changes in Staff Effective May 13

The new editor of the Spectator elected this week is Orlando B. Potter. A member of both Hamiltonews and the Spectator staffs during his first three years at Hamilton, Potter will take over his new duties with the next issue of the Spectator.

Active in many phases of undergraduate activity, he is captain of the 1949-50 ski team, a past president of the Outing Club, and a member of the Geology and Glee Clubs and the Choir.

Assisting Potter on his editorial staff will be Keith Wellin as associate editor, replacing Robert Held whose resignation became effective with that of Charles McKeen, the retiring editor. Galbraith Crump will move up to the position of managing editor, and Gregory Drummond, to that of news editor. William Schwarz will replace feature editor Philip Evans who is forced to resign because of his recent election to the house presidency of DU. Robert Tillman will remain with the staff as sports editor for the rest of the year.

John F. Barton and William W. Trickey, Jr., were elected to Was Los, the junior class honor society, at the fourth and final of that organization's 1949 initiations held after Wednesday Chapel this week.

Honor Court

On Wednesday, May 18, the Honor Court will hold its annual election. Nominations will be submitted by the Honor Court, and the student body will have the privilege of making further nominations. Two senior representatives, two juniors, and one sophomore will be elected.

The Honor Court reminds the student body that this is probably the most important of all of Hamilton's student elections.

Elections

At the weekly all-college meeting next Wednesday we are going to vote for representatives to our Student Council. And if we are to have good student government next year, we owe it to ourselves, and to the College Community as a whole, to consider carefully the nominees for whom petitions were filed with the Student Council earlier this week.

The Spectator has attempted to give each of the candidates an opportunity to make a statement in this issue. Certainly, many of them have more to say and more to offer us than has been necessarily condensed into a sentence or two. It is our responsibility to find out as much about these candidates as we possibly can. The candidates, in turn, owe it to their sponsors, if not to anyone else, to make themselves and their plans and policies known about the campus.

We are definitely moving in the right direction so far as our election system is concerned. But we cannot let up now if we want to see our good start materialize into something big and important in the way of a Student Council. From now until next Wednesday, let us give this matter of the 1949-50 Student Council our most serious and undivided attention.

● New Editor

The next issue of the Spectator will be the work of a new editor and a somewhat changed editorial staff. All those who know him in journalistic circles and in other activities on the campus will certainly join with the editors of the past year in wishing the new editor and his staff a successful year with the Spectator. The job, most assuredly, is not an easy one, but the rewards are great in the satisfaction he will have in improving the publication entrusted to his care and judgment.

This seems a fitting time for those stepping out to thank their readers, and particularly those with whom they have been associated on the Spectator, for the splendid cooperation which has been shown them. Sincere and helpful criticism from its readers has made the Spectator as good as it is, and with the guarantee that such aid and encouragement will continue to be forthcoming, the new editors of the Spectator have a great deal to which to look forward.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editors of the Spectator:

We feel that the Was Los - Sophomore Class Dance of last weekend was a success from every point of view.

Through the cooperation of the student body we were able to meet all expenses, to reduce completely the Sophomore Class debt of $38, to add a pleasant social note to a fine athletic weekend, and to remunerate, in small measure, Len Kingsley and his Hill-toppers, who offered their services without charge.

We also wish to extend our thanks to Bill Wilson, Stu Robinson, John Mapletoft and the members of Psi U, the people who donated their talent to the show, and the editors of the Spectator for helping to make this dance a success.

Sincerely,
Jerome A. Steiner, '50
David Amerman, '51

Dale Williams and Alfred Schneider will uphold the affirmative and Elliott Howard and Sheldon Horowitch, the negative in the annual McKinney Prize Debate Monday at 8:00 P. M. in Emerson Hall. The subject is "Resolved: That higher education is properly a function of the federal government."

ATTENTION!

All students who plan to return to Hamilton next fall are reminded that preliminary registration arrangements must be made before May 11.

Entertainment In Utica

by John E. Campion

For a brief respite from the arduous task of selecting your companion and/or partner for next weekend's bacchanal and all of the purchasing which such an event necessitates, the following list of entertainments is suggesetd.

The Stanley: May 6, 7, 8. The Bribe, a picture dealing with intrigue in the tropics with Robert Taylor (who is not a communist) and Ava Gardner (who plays a sexy role with restraint). May 9, 10, 11. Hamlet with Sir Laurence Olivier, probably the best of this and many another year. All seats reserved. Two shows daily, 2:30 and 8:30.

The Avon: El Paso, (plot obvious from title) with John Payne and Gail Russell. The co-feature: My Own True Love, starring Phyllis Calvert and Melvyn Douglas with a very pretty girl named Wanda Hendrix who did so well in Ride The Pink Horse.

The Olympic: Mother Is A Freshman, a "college" picture. Van Johnson plays a Professor of English Literature, and Loretta Young and her "daughter" are both trying to make "A's". If you like that sort of thing, by all means see this. The second feature is Bungalow No. 13, a Falcon picture with Tom Conway.

Jerry Marsh's Cafe Lounge: The Ko Ko Nuts, "a new kind of comedy". Nightly (9:00-2:00).

The New Chancellor: The Four Cleffs, a comedy outfit. Special Sunday afternoon show.

Taleric's (next to the Avon): A young lady named Chrystene who is very pretty, and very enteraining according to some DU men-about-town.

Town House: Adrian Rollini Trio, "the biggest little band in the land", starting tonight.

In Syracuse: Woody Herman and his orchestra, May 23, in a concert of modern jazz, at Lincoln Auditorium. Tickets $1.90. On sale at Clark's Music Shop, Syracuse.

Meet the Faculty

THOMAS TILESTON

Mr. Thomas Tileston, from New Hartford, Connecticut, joined the French Department at Hamilton last fall. Although he had spent a great deal of time in France, Mr. Tileston began his teaching career with algebra and Latin in a secondary school.

Mr. Tileston majored in Romance Languages at Harvard University. After his graduation from there, he went abroad to France and Paris, where he visited and travelled for a year. He then returned to Harvard to work for his master's degree before he began his secondary school teaching in New Haven, Connecticut, for three years.

Beginning in 1942, he worked for three and a half years in Military Intelligence, attached to the 94th and 66th Infantry Divisions. According to him, the most enjoyable part of this period was spent at what was known as the "forgotten front" around St. Nazaire, a German base on the west coast of France, where there was relatively little activity until the end of the war. After his discharge in 1946, Mr. Tileston returned to Paris where he was married several months later. Shortly afterwards, he and his wife moved to the United States.

Accepting a position in the French Department at Hamilton, Mr. Tileston and his wife arrived in Clinton last September. They have made their home on College Street.

Eighteen Paintings by James Penney Now Being Shown in College Library

by Steve Feldman

On exhibit this week in the library are 18 paintings by Hamilton's young art instructor, James Penney, done during the past winter in the Utica area.

To call Mr. Penney an abstractionist would be something of an inaccuracy, though his work is certainly not "representational". Of contemporary schools he perhaps most resembles the Expressionists, for example in his use of color, suggests Mr. Paul Parker, though he often plots formal patterns much in the manner of the classic abstract painter.

The autumn and winter scenes in this collection all show an apparent concern with organizing of vividly superposed color grounds into spatial reality of a somewhat romantically emphatic and suggestive nature. The canvases as a whole catch with distinct success the qualities of this time.

Among the more unusually striking paintings is No. 5 in the catalogue, called "Tree", a complex and fascinating study that makes excellent use of broken line rhythms. Others of the group that seem to hold special interest are No. 13, "Salesroom", No. 14, "State Street", and No. 18, "Street in Winter". In general it should be said that Mr. Penney is an artist of more than considerable interest.

Credit must be given to Robert Larsen, one of Mr. Penney's students, who helped arrange for the use of the library and the transportation of the paintings from the Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute in Utica.

Hill Delegation Is Canada In Model U.N.

The Hamilton (Canadian) delegation to the Model Security Council Meeting held in Rochester last weekend, nearly succeeded in its efforts to bring about harmonious agreement among the Big Powers. The delegation worked continually, both during the sessions and between sessions, to heal the East-West split. Substantial progress was made toward bringing more cordial relations to the discussion.

The delegation consisted of Edward Bakwin, who was spokesman during the discussion of the North Atlantic Pact; Christopher Beebe, who dealt with the admission of new members; Bertram Partin, the expert on the Indonesian question; and Robert Conklin, legal and procedural adviser.

Working for Student Body Stressed by Candidates and recommendations of previous Councils will be needed to efficiently enact necessary reforms.

Class of 1950 Representatives

Mark Hagerman — The Student Council at present does not occupy the significant position which I believe it might. My interest lies in the conferring of more responsibility upon the Council along with the necessary power to execute it.

Robertson Mackay — The things foremost in my mind are the strengthening of the Student Council; the revision of the Class Elections system; the organization of a college calendar, integrating all events; and the investigation of service charges for beds, etc., especially over houseparty.

Don Roscher — I'm all for a United Hamilton which will manifest itself via everybody's being nice to everybody else over a FIVE-CENT cup of coffee in the Back Room.

William Tank — I believe that the Student Council should not only represent the student body and reflect student opinion, but should also be strengthened so that more constructive action might be taken when student opinion is registered.

William Wilson — If elected, I will be representative of what I believe to be the policies of the Senior Class and student body as a whole, in an attempt to make the Student Council a dynamic and meaningful body.

Class of 1951 Representatives

Jerry Huff — I believe that the Student Council should be a strong influential governing body working for the collective and individual good of the Hamilton student body, and I pledge myself to work for this end.

William Hutchison — The petition system increases a candidate's obligation to get things done. The next step, I think, is to give him something to do. We'll have to make a more careful study of the areas of Council responsibility before that body can be really effective.

William Luers — This new system is a step in the right direc-

Earl Williamson and Rockets Shake Psi U and Campus

Once in a while an explosion rocks the foundation of the Psi U house and immediately the student body is alerted for the take-off of a high-powered car or the chain reaction of a preparation of bath-tub gin, but it is only Earl Williamson puttering around with one of his fabulous rockets.

When Earl first surveyed America from a Rochester hospital twenty years ago, he immediately decided that his station in life would be to give the sluggish world of Model "A's" and monoplanes a "hot-foot." After cutting his teeth on a bottle of nitroglycerin he went down into the solitude of a cellar and experimented with an amateur's chemistry set. But one cold January afternoon he blew the windows out and consequently had to transfer operations to his bedroom. At the ripe old age of twelve he found out the the airplane models he was making demanded the use of a gasoline engine, but because he wanted a less expensive means of propelling his craft, Earl decided to fly his planes with home-made rockets. Eventually he gave up his model plane manufacturing and concentrated on rockets.

His family made him experiment outdoors, after he nearly blew off the oven door while heating some rocket ingredients. Soon the Flower City was echoing with the buzz of missles and the thunder of Earl's feet as he chased the remains.

In high school his thirst for knowledge prevented him from livening up the dull lectures with a few explosions, but he did create a little confusion one night at a party when one of his small rockets skimmed along the floor between the dancers. During his senior year at East High School in Rochester, N. Y., Earl was elected president of the Student Government Association. His campaign slogan was "Vote for Williamson and we'll have a big blowout."

Earl followed his brother Harv to Clinton hoping to uncover more information about rockets, but when one of his guided missles fell from its chute and uncovered Bob Tillman's car, he slowed down his rocket production. During the past year Earl hasn't done much with his rockets, being content to manage the chess club and relax with classical records and beautiful women.

Earl Williamson

The January, 1949, issue of the Yale Scientific Magazine publiished an article by Earl entitled "Miniature Reaction Engines." which is a good, simple explanation of his experiments to perfect low cost amateur rockets. As to the future he is undecided, but undoubtedly something will explode one of these days, and Earl will be on his way to fame.

tion toward better nominations and elections for student offices —a step toward making these offices more important.

Robert Milkey — It is my fond hope to be able to make our Student Council more strong and able to serve us at Hamilton than ever it has been. The Student Council must rightly be an active manifestation of the student will and the public good.

David Palmer — As a representative on the Student Council, I would attempt to secure a closer integration of campus activities and a more active and healthy interest in athletics. I firmly believe that lacrosse should become part of our athletic program.

Hall Shultz — I do not believe in making campaign promises which cannot possibly be kept, but I will make one promise: to work toward making the Student Council a stronger body which will represent the will of the whole student body and which has a powerful voice in all college activities.

Class of 1952 Representatives

Roderick Gander — I intend to do the utmost to carry out the wishes of the entire student body.

William Morrisey — My only desire is to be able to articulate the wishes of the student body and then to work toward translating those wishes into active being.

James Robinson — I favor better school spirit through inter-class competition and I also favor a more representative system of election of class officers.

Stuart Robinson — I would like to see an active Student Council serving as a link between student desires and college action.

William Schwarz — Unselfish interest in student problems must be the keynote of a properly representative Student Council.

Albert Vollmer — I would seek to promote better understanding and cooperation between all classes next year. At the same time I favor a stronger sense and expression of class unity than now exists.

Scanning the Field

by Bob Tillman

Although Hamilton's team's registered only one victory out of a possible four last Saturday, the day was far from a complete washout. Two of the contests were lost only by one-point margins, and a few outstanding individual showings on the part of tht Blue trackmen made the defeat by Union a little easier to take.

The baseball game with Stevens was an interesting, if not well-played battle, quite unlike the Upsala debacle that preceded it by one day. After the Hill pastimers had blown their first inning lead in true Hamilton style, they managed to keep close on the heels of Stone Millers all afternoon, and might have won the tilt had it not been for a few unfortunate and untimely occurences. As it happened, Stevens had only two earned runs, but six Blue miscues helped the Jerseyites tally five more times and win the ball game. And anyone who saw the weird bit of base running that resulted in a traffic jam at second base and a timely double killing that enabled Stevens to get out of a precarious spot will certainly agree that better cooperation is direly needed between Hamilton base runners and coaches.

Over on the cinders, there was never any doubt about the ultimate winner after the first few events had been run off. Union had simply too much depth, experience, and talent for the Blue to cope with. Nevertheless, the Hillmen made a struggle out of almost every event outside the distance races, and Dave Palmer's double victory over Union's Ollie Personeous in the 100 and 220 labels the soph speedboy as a possible record-breaker in the not so distant future.

All these events were worth watching, but how any one person is going to take in four that are being run off simultaneously is another problem. The only solution seems to be an observation balloon floating about one hundred and fifty feet over the stands on Steuben Field, or perhaps breaking up the schedule a little more so that such a log jam doesn't repeat itself. This Saturday, the only event on the program is a golf match with RPI. If some way could be found to schedule games so that the student body could have an opportunity to see one contest without missing another, it would add to the support accorded the teams and would be appreciated by athletes and spectators alike.

Cindermen Face Middlebury Drop Meet to Union, 85-14

Despite record-breaking performances by Paul Langa and Clair Babcock and Dave Palmer's double triumph in the sprints, the track team's initial effort of the season went for naught as the well-balanced Union squad copped the meet last Saturday on Steuben Field by an 85-41 count.

Tomorrow, the charges of Pete Dugan hope to notch their first win when they face Middlebury at Middlebury. The Panthers triumphed over the Blue last year and should be quite strong this year despite the loss of their record-smashing man, Murray Pelrstein. Last Saturday, Middlebury opened its season in a triangular meet.

By clearing the bar at an even 6 feet, Paul Langa broke his previous record of 5' 11" to gain first place in the high jump. In the broad jump, Clair Babcock made a 21' 8 1|2" leap that established a new mark.

The only Hamilotn dual winner in the meet was Dave Palmer,

Stickmen Upset Ithaca, 11 - 9; In First Game

In preparation for its big houseparty contest with Hobart, by far the toughest obstacle on its schedule, the lacrosse squad journeys to Schenectady to challenge Union tomorrow.

Last Saturday the stickmen proved their mettle by defeating favored Ithaca 11-9. The team took its two deciding victory shots within nineteen seconds of each other in the last five minutes of play. The big story behind the upset concerns Bill MacKenze, who was responsible for stopping Corcoran, the Ithaca attacker, who scored seven times in last year's contest, and who ranks as one of the best players in the East. Bill held the "one-man-team" scoreless.

The Hamilton club showed in Saturday's event a great improvement over its previous games. It refused to bow even after the visitors had taken a 4-3 lead in the first quarter and managed to tie the score 6-6 at half-time.

The Continentals took twenty-seven shots in the second half to six for the Cayugans. Three went into the elusive triangle in the third period to give Hamilton a 9-8 margin going into the final stretch.

Baseballers Play First Road Game

Hill Team Tackles Union, Rochester

Hamilton College's baseball team will play its first road game of the season tomorrow afternoon when the Continentals journey to Schenectady to meet Union College. This afternoon the Blue, looking for their first win after losing twice last weekend, were to play host to Hobart.

Next week two games are on tap, both with a strong Rochester nine. Wednesday the Blue will take action in the Kodak City, and on the thirteenth Rochester will come here for the first athletic event of the houseparty weekend.

Although they displayed excellent hitting, the Continentals lost to Upsala, 13-5, Friday, and Stevens, 7-6, Saturday because of uneven pitching, poor fielding, and inept base-running. Capt. Jim Beaverson proved to be the ace of Gregg Batt's hurling staff as he held Stevens to seven hits and four earned runs.

Today Coach Batt planned to start either Carpenter or Tony Sleggs, while against Union he will use Beaverson or Galvin. Harry Babcock will be kept in reserve for relief duty. The starting lineup will be the same as last week except that Batt will move Bob Belden to right field and station Powers in left. Satisfied with the hitting, Coach Batt has emphasized base-running and fielding in practice this week.

Hamilton jumped off to a five run lead in the first inning of the Upsala game, but the New Jersey team came back with six tallies in the second and four more in the third. Ten men batted in the Continentals' big frame in which there were three hits, two bases on balls and a hit batsman.

The following day's tilt, watched by a big crowd, was a thriller all the way. Going into the eighth Stevens had a 4-3 lead, and each team scored three more runs in the next to last frame. With the bases loaded, John Dyba, Stevens batting star, polled a triple, which was misjudged, into right field. The Blue came back in their half with three hits by Jerry Steiner, who took both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Palmer turned in a :10.2 century and a 22.5 furlong as he ran away from the Union ace, Personeous.

Fred Schmidt just missed the discus mark of 128 feet when he hurled the platter 127' 4 1|2". Schmidt finished behind Ken Whalen in the shot put with freshman John Egner tossing a 39-footer for third place.

The only other first place for the Continentals came when Jake Heinig fired the javelin 176' 8".

Hamilton's big weakness showed itself in the distance events. Union swept the 880, mile, and two-mile, scoring 27 points to our 0. For tomorrow's meet against Middlebury, Coach Dugan expects to do some switching in order to gain power in the distance events. Larry Gulick might move up to the mile with Dixie Howell moving down from the two-mile to the mile and 880.

Marty Fribush, and Beaverson, for a like number of runs. But Bill Crew grounded out, stranding the potential tieing and winning runs.

Busy Schedule Planned For Hill Tennis Players

The tennis team will take to the courts three times in the next week, facing Cortland State at Cortland on Tuesday and here on Saturday, and Rochester here on Friday.

In the games last weekend Coach Mox Weber's charges came through with a .500 average. On Friday they easily downed the Dutchmen at Union, 8-1, but on Saturday they lost a heartbreaker to a good Stevens squad.

The Dutchmen proved little trouble to the squad, as the Blue took all but one set. Vandy Ward downed Jesser 6-3, 6-3; Jack Banks beat Frasier Henry 7-5, 6-2; Bill Cooper scored over Kellun, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4; Pete Grimm won his match with a 7-5, 8-6 score, and Don Mawhinney beat out Chervenak, 8-6, 6-3. Gluck scored Union's lone point in the afternoon, beating Harry Bates 7-5, 6-3. In the doubles Ward and Grimm took two of the three sets from Jesser and Kellun by scores of 6-3, 2-6, 6-2. Cooper and Banks came from behind to beat Henry and Judson, 2-6, 6-3, 6-2. Mawhinney and Shulansky easily downed Albereling and Wiesburg 6-1, 6-0.

Saturday's match with Stevens was close all the way. The two teams went into the doubles play tied at 3-3. Banks had beat Hessman, 4-6, 6-2, 6-0; Cooper had taken Kelley in two sets, 6-2, 7-5; and Grimm had disposed of Hawkins, 6-4, 9-7. On the other side of the fence Slickle scored over Mawhinney, 6-1, 6-1; Herheta beat Bates, 6-3, 7-5, and Meyer nosed out Ward, 6-3, 2-6, 7-9. Banks and Cooper beat Hessman and Hawkins in the first doubles match 6-2, 7-5, but Slickle and Meyer beat Ward and Grimm in three sets, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3. In the final doubles match Nichols and Kelley beat Mawhinney and Shulansky, 6-2, 6-3.

Golfers Face RPI Here Tomorrow

The golf squad will face the Engineers from RPI tomorrow on the Hill links, and next Wednesday they will take on the Utica College squad in Utica. In the two games played last weekend, the Hillmen came out with a .500 average, beating Union 3 1|2 to 5 1|2 on Friday, while losing to an exceptionally good Williams College group on Saturday.

In Friday's match at the Edison Golf Course in Schenectady, Bert Wright and Gordie Burton lost their match to Ben Swan and Dan Baskous, giving the Dutchmen three points, two for low and one for the match. In the second match, Bob Mackay won while Al Doyle split with Don Gregory for the rest of Union's scoring. Leader was the second Union man in the match. In the third and final match Gregory and Bill Luers beat out Joe Behan and Warren Frost.

In Saturday's match at the Taconic Golf Course at Williamstown, the squad was unable to pick up a point. Wright and Burton lost to Bucky Marchese, who shot a 74 for one-over-par, and Jerry Cole. Tom Gregory and Mackay dropped their match to Chuck White, who also had a one-over-par, and Rodie. In the final match Don Gregory and Bill Luers lost to Dick Heuer and Kim Whitney.

Lacrosse . . . Cont'd

At the 10:2 mark in the last period, after Shaefer had netted his fifth goal for the Ithacans and tied the score, Gabe Smilkstein put the Blue ahead at 10:46. Sam Reeder smashed through for the clinching goal to ice the battle.

Heading the scoring column was Bill Wilson with his field day of four goals and three assists On his heels was Dick Baldwin who sank two and assisted on another, while Jim Sontheimer converted two and aided on one more. It was Charlie Reach's tally that sent the Continentals to a 9-8 lead at 11:11 of the third frame. Capt. Gabe Smilkstein and Sam Reeder got one apiece. Goalie C. A. Griffiths, in notching his first victory, was called upon to make only six saves, but these included two fine rescues.
